How many times will Ebola be trotted out as the next crisis? How many [illegible]cs have to be promoted before some question and sanity permeates the empty gullible minds of the masses? The headline today in the Washington Post, a propaganda rag at best, was: "Contagion of 'conspiracy theories' makes Ebola 'epidemic' harder to contain." This language is intentional and certainly misleading. It seems now that misidentified 'conspiracy theorists,' those who tell the truth, are to be condemned, while actual conspiracy is pursued aggressively by State players and media. Conspiracy realists are now said to cause contagion, and therefore, so-called 'viruses' that do not even exist, will not be cured by the Rockefeller medical cabal. The term 'epidemic' is just a replacement word for pandemic; which obviously does not actually exist.

Including 'major' and minor 'outbreaks' of what is labeled as Ebola, have been claimed 48 times since 1976, which means that all bogus State efforts to quell the spread of this supposed plague, have failed and failed miserably. But no worries, as this time around is different you see. The Africa CDC head in his infinite wisdom, claims that "Ebola outbreak can be contained despite lack of 'vaccines.' Is not that interesting? I thought fake poisonous 'vaccines' were the only way to stop the spread of this and other 'viral' monsters. There was no mention whatsoever of the horrendous living conditions, starvation, open sewage, toxic water, and squalor in which most live in this affected area. Much of this area has no electricity or water, but that could not be the cause of sickness, could it?

The first mandate was forceable quarantine, (lockdowns) of course, just another absurd aggression based on no real scientific evidence; only 'pandemic' fraud and fear-mongering. These people in Africa are being used in order to allow an advance of restrictive measures worldwide, without any concern for them whatsoever. According to this mainstream report, the people there do not believe that any Ebola exists, which means they are more intellectually aware than given credit. It is telling to see the videos from this region, as there are completely covered, masked, and hooded WHO slime, amongst large numbers of unmasked people who fully understand that this is all made up and a plot to advance other agendas.

I would like to attempt to list all of the government false flag atrocities just since 2020, but I think it nearly impossible. There are so many, and they have all come and gone away, including the bogus 'covid' fraud, but new and improved scams are ever-occurring today. It seems a new threat arises out of whole cloth continuously, and this Ebola hype is just the most recent propaganda push meant as usual, to gain more control over populations, cover up war and other State atrocities, install travel restrictions which are already in place, which is just a way of limiting or eliminating mobility, all helpful in pursuing a huge AI build-up, full digitization, and biometrics, while building the technocratic prison system all around us.

When the depopulation agenda gets in high gear, there will need to be many excuses for the deaths of large swathes of people, and all these invented medical, alien, nuclear, climate change nonsense, manufactured weather events, among many other lies, can be used as excuses for mass death.

The governments, the heinous bureaucratic system, the enforcers, and the ruling cabal, all say they want to help humanity, make the world safe, save the earth, and protect the peons, all while practicing and implementing transhumanism, lockdowns, planning the "great taking" of all assets, warmongering and slaughtering innocents, killing children, inflating the monetary system out of existence, continuous mass surveillance, starving populations globally, and destroying any and all freedom remaining. The hypocrisy is astounding.

It seems at this time that the 'hantavirus' fraud has already passed without fanfare, as hopefully will this 'Ebola' deception, but it could certainly return, although it seems it was a flop for the ruling class parasites. This is now the norm, as jumping from one false threat to another to see what sticks, is a built-in strategy of these State monsters.

Part of the fear porn is to use the children as fodder for nefarious agendas, so it has been claimed that because 'health workers' may get Ebola, causing no medical care for children, that they (the children) "will die of measles, malnutrition, and other preventable situations," This planned resulting statement is meant to pull the heart strings of those not on board with this hoax, by warning of things that are and have been the norm for decades in areas such as these. This is not only madness, but premeditated evil.

To top off this latest insanity, it appears that the unhinged Trump administration has "decided to send Americans who 'may' have contracted Ebola to Kenya instead of monitoring their health and treating them as needed in the U.S."

There you have it; another fraud and fear-mongering effort by politicians and government to cause panic among the proletariat serfs over a non-existent threat purposely manufactured in order to continue to gain total control over populations. These tactics will continue as long as this population allows it, and complies with any future mandates and orders.
